A talent resume is known as a Functional Resume and can be used for applying for work in talent, service and industry even without first-hand experience.

You'll see many questions you don't find in a typical job application. In this kind of profile you get to add a lot of information that you never get the chance to on many other forms. Pay close attention to fields marked with an ASTERISK if you missed one of those, then the form will be incomplete!

Also note that when you choose 'post your profile here', not everything you type will appear on any public profile. It's our job to get it RIGHT, and we can roll back your form if you need to make changes to what you see. Just email us.

Save your work as you need to, especially if you have lots of data to enter. Doing so involves logging in your email address and coming up with a password, so you can log out and back in to complete the form at your own pace. Set this up by checking the 'Save My Progress' box on top.

This form may change as you move DOWN each page - recheck each field carefully before submitting.

Publishing your resume on RayZooMay.net is free and requires no membership dues or contract. At the end of this form you can print the text portion as a FREE WORKSHEET to networking events, agencies or casting calls in lieu of a resume. Naturally for best results you should follow through and get in contact with us to create your official press kits!

"If you go to Hollywood, you've already sold out. By the sheer act of going there, you're saying 'I need to go there because this is the only way I can get my movie made.' Baloney! Indiana's the place to make your movie. Pontiac, Michigan. Whatever. Then you're just making it on the merits of the movie."
